

Doing Goodwill with “Bill”

William Penn Bank’s Employee Volunteer Program

In the spirit of giving back to the community, William Penn Bank implemented a bank-wide, employee volunteer program entitled “Doing Goodwill with Bill”. This program allows our employees up to 4 hours per month of paid leave to volunteer at local, non-profit organizations. Our employees stock shelves and help clients gather groceries at the local food pantries, tutor children in after-school programs, provide clerical help to local housing groups and financial counseling programs, and the list goes on and on!

The success of our program is a reflection of our employees’ enthusiasm and commitment to make a difference in the communities in which they live and work. At William Penn, we’re lending a helping hand for a better community.

William Penn Bank Community Foundation

In addition to volunteer help, local service organizations are in need of funding to support their programs. In conjunction with our initial public offering, William Penn Bank set up a Charitable Foundation to help provide much needed funds to charities in our area that support the following goals:

Community and Economic Development
Education
Health Care and Human Services

We are particularly interested in funding programs and activities that provide assistance and opportunities to improve the quality of life for people of low income, especially families in crisis or at risk. Since its inception in 2008, the William Penn Bank Community Foundation has provided $640,000 in financial support for these types of programs.

Directors of the William Penn Bank Community Foundation are:

Charles Corcoran

Terry Sager
